Details, just arrived from the Philippines and published here, of the taking of Yap by the Germans in the very face of the Spanish troops have aroused feelings of irritation both in army and navy circles. At several political meetings officers of high rank openly impeached the conduct of the Ministry, which had brought this disgrace on their military prestige.

Four persons died from small-pox yesterday in the greatest misery, not even having a bed.

The inhabitants here do not appear to take much interest in politics.

SUPPRESSION OF LOTTERIES.

The action of Congress in suppressing the Lotteries, is nothing more than the reaction of a nuisance, which grew to such dimensions, that at last it corrects itself. Everyone in Buenos Ayres complained of the lottery nuisance, which had reached such a pass that it became nothing short of a municipal scandal. Little boys hardly able to walk, girls just blooming into womanhood, strong, able-bodied men and women, all were enlisted in the ranks of lottery ticket sellers. Such a sudden growth of idle useless agents in a country where labor is dear and hands are scarce, astonished everyone. Schools were stripped of their pupils, families of their helps, and honest earnings of their legitimate gains, all to support the innumerable lotteries that fairly enveloped this city.

Men of deep thought and reflection, who studied this lottery nuisance in all its bearings, must have arrived at the conclusion that the secret of their success is due entirely to the over paid wages of the working classes. Wages in this country are so high, that the classes of society upon which lotteries subsist, have a superabundance of ready money, and instead of depositing those surplus earnings in the banks at interest they preferred to invest in tickets every week in the hope of drawing the large prize.

In no other country in the world have lotteries grown with such rapidity as in this, and although we all deprecate the nuisance and protest against their prejudicial influences on a people, still we must accept their gigantic growth as the unerring evidence of a prosperity amongst the proletariat unknown in Europe, the United States, or Australia.

The story is told of an Italian emigrant who, landing on the mole-head with his box and bed, sold the latter to pay for a lottery ticket which an Italian girl offered him for sale as he stepped on shore. The sale of his chattels only paid for ½ a ticket, which drew that very day the big prize. The Italian, bewildered at his good luck, took passage next day in the Umberto, returned to his native land a rich man, told his story, and hundreds, nay thousands, of his countrymen took passage at once for the Plate, but although they all sold some of their little things on landing and bought lottery tickets, few, if any, of them ever drew a prize.

The following is a summary of the debate in Congress on the subject, and it is satisfactory to see that there is a sweeping majority in the House in favor of the abolition of all lotteries. Since the nuisance has grown to such dimensions that no exception can now be made, we must have all lotteries prohibited in order to correct the abuse:—

Art. 4. The lottery companies, duly authorized in the capital, shall pay a tax of 2 0/0 on the total of their respective emissions.

Deputy Davila stated that when this article had been examined by the Committee he had decided to vote against it in the Chamber. He briefly alluded to the enormous proportions this scandalous and disgraceful mode of gambling has assumed in this city. He then entered into some details, and advised the Chamber to suppress the lotteries, not excepting the Capital Lottery, which, he said, had set the example only too faithfully followed by other companies. He concluded by advising the suppression of all lotteries.

Deputy Funes observed that it would be unjust to suppress some lotteries and except others. Several of his colleagues supported this statement, and were in favor of the complete suppression of all the lotteries.

Deputy Ortiz—May it not be asked why the State does not impose a tax on robberies, seeing that robberies cannot be suppressed?

Deputy Tagle—We have prisons for robbers.

A warm discussion here ensued between these two deputies.

Deputy Davila observed, that the only practicable way to suppress the lotteries would be to sanction the article under discussion.

The article was then put to the vote and was thrown out by 29 votes against 21. The lotteries are thus totally suppressed in the capital.

After a short interval the Deputies resumed their seats, and a project, signed by ten Deputies of all political colors, was presented, authorizing the Municipality to continue their lottery.

Deputies Calvo and Barra attacked the project, and, after lengthy speeches, concluded by advising their colleagues to throw it out.

Deputies Gilbert and Davila supported the project, and examined it from different points of view.

The project was then put to the vote and approved "in general," and, being amended, ran as follows:

Art. 1. From the 1st of January, 1886, the suppression is hereby made of all lotteries in the Capital and National Territories. All sellers of lottery tickets in the Capital or National Territories shall, after that date, be liable to a heavy fine.

Art. 2. The violation of this law shall entail a penalty of six months' imprisonment, and a fine ranging from 500 to 2,000 dollars.

Art. 3. The repeated infraction of this law shall entail double punishment and maximum fine.

Art. 4. The "inciso" 8 of article 44 of the Municipal law is hereby rescinded.

Art. 5. Let this be published, etc.

TAX ON GOLD SALES.

To shut up the new Bolsa, to drive gold speculators down to Montevideo, to wring from the importing and exporting trade of the Plate a new tax of 2 per mil on its volume, are the chief and main objects of Mr Deputy Calvo's project of law, of which we give a translation at foot.

That the gold speculation in this market has reached the most inflated dimensions we all admit, and any reasonable measure to check that speculation would be welcomed by the whole market, but the tax proposed by Mr. Calvo is altogether too heavy, and therefore, as is always the case in such matters, it defeats itself. The law, if passed in its present shape, will remain a dead letter, both buyer and sellers will escape it, and it would be easier for Mr Calvo to have proposed a tax of 2 per mil on all the tea, sugar, and 'yerba,' sold in the city almacenes than to levy such a heavy impost on the most essential article in the world's commerce—gold. The history of the Buenos Ayres Bolsa is the history of the defeat of every Government measure that tried to meddle with its affairs. Some 10 years ago the Minister named an interventor to superintend the time, contracts for stocks etc., but to this hour neither the interventor nor the Minister have succeeded in carrying that law out. Rosas attempted by some despotic edict to stop Bolsa and Bolsa affairs, but the point of his sword could not reach so far, and the brokers sneered at the efforts of the Dictator. So also now Mr Calvo's law will remain a dead letter unless the brokers accept it, and ratify it, and Congress may pass all the laws it thinks proper, but they will be all avoided and all placed in abeyance if the brokers, against whom they are directed, refuse to conform to them, and with such an impost as 2 per mil, it is idle to suppose the brokers will accept the measure.

If Congress was composed of men of the same stamp, education and means as the Bolsa, it is possible some methodizing measure might be passed to protect the market and the Bolsa from excessive speculation, but the ocean that divides the intelligence and capacity of the two bodies is immense, and it is absurd to expect that the intelligence of Congress men in business matters can rank on a level with that of money and exchange brokers. Congres, therefore, to legislate in this matter should consult the Camara syndical and the most experienced of our brokers, and be guided by their views, instead of plunging into a measure that must necessarily, if passed, remain a dead letter.

The following is the project and a precis of the debate:—

Art. 1st—Whilst the present state of forced currency lasts every certificate or document of sale purchase or hypothecation, of coined money, National or foreign money, gold or silver, cash or at dates, whether effected in or outside the Bolsa, must, to have legal force, be drawn up on stamped paper on a scale of charges double that fixed by the stamp law.

Art. 2nd—When drawing up these documents, brokers shall give the names of their principals.

Art. 3rd—Brokers who infringe this law shall be fined 10 o/o of the value of the document, and in cases where no certificate exists the percentage of fine shall be fixed on the brokers last operation.

Art. 4th—Operations in specie, whether for cash or on time, effected between parties directly without the intervention of brokers, shall pay the same tax of 2 o/oo in stamps, and any infringement of this law shall be punished as above.

Art. 5th—The Executive Power shall draw up the regulation of this law.

M. A. Calvo.

Deputy Calvo alluded to the immense quantity of gold daily sold on the Bolsa. To ascertain the total amount of these sales, he had applied to the Secretary of the Bolsa for data. He had discovered from this source that during the 8 months of this year operations to the amount of $320,000,000 m/n. had been effected, of which 107,000,000 were cash. All these operations are effected without any tax. In his opinion, these operations should come under the stamp law, and thus to restrain the unbridled speculation on the Bolsa, which is so injurious to public and private wealth.

These sales are not caused by any real necessity as the following table will show:—

We see by this table that the trade balances from 1880 to 1882 being equal, there remain only a balance of 20,000,000 for 1883, which, added to the 40,000,000 of 1884 and 1885 give a total of 60,000,000.

If we add the 65,000,000 required during the space of five years to meet the service of the debt, we arrive at the conclusion that only a gross total of 125 millions gold had been required, and nevertheless the sales of money on the Bolsa amount in one year to 320 millions.

This is simply monstrous. My project, the hon. deputy observed in conclusion, is calculated to remove this obstacle.

The project was sent to Committee.

PRICES AND GOLD SUPPLY.

(By M. G. Mulhall, F.S.S.)

Between 1795 and 1879 the Latin Union coined gold to the value of 349 millions sterling, and in the latter year the amount of that coinage existing was only 193 millions—that is, the money had been coined twice over in 84 years. Between 1850 and 1880 the world coined 1,022 millions sterling of gold, yet the stock of gold coin in the latter year exceeded that of 1850 by only 490 millions: the money had been twice minted in 30 years. During that interval the average coinage of the world had been 34 millions per annum, of which 18 millions consisted of old coin, and the remaining 16 millions were made up partly from the mines, partly from old candlesticks, snuff-boxes, etc., of the last generation. Now the annual coinage from 1870 to 1884 averaged 14 millions sterling per annum, of which we must infer that one-half came from old coins, so that the utmost drain on the mines for this purpose could not have exceeded 7 millions, or a little more than one-third of their yield. Even adopting the lowest figures, the mines at present yield 17 millions per annum.

The total product of the mines since 1850 has been as follows:—

	1850-60. Millions £.	1861-70. Millions £.	1871-80 Millions £.	1881-84. Millions £.
United States	102	98	70	24
Australia	104	82	72	20
Russia	38	40	48	22
Spain, America, etc..	38	44	50	10
	282	264	240	76

The increase of gold coinage from 1850 till December, 1884, was 531 millions sterling, or 61 per cent. of the above yield, leaving a balance of more than 300 millions, which may sooner or later be used for coin.

So far from the reserve of uncoined gold diminishing, it is increasing faster than population, which ought to be sufficient proof of the absurdity of an "impending gold famine."* The following table shows the quantities coined and uncoined at various dates since 1830:—

TABLE D.
Millions £ sterling.

Year.	Gold Stock.	Coin.	Uncoined Reserve.
1830	540	146	394
1840	570	156	414
1850	630	205	425
1860	911	433	478
1870	1,175	575	600
1885	1,504	736	768

The uncoined reserve has nearly doubled since 1850—that is, it has increased more than twice as fast as the aggregate population of Europe, the United States, and the British Colonies.

It will be said that I have not made allowances for "consumption," a term so much abused that some people speak of gold as if it were grain or tobacco, to be eaten or destroyed. The annual loss of gold by attrition, shipwreck, fires, etc., is very small, not quite two tons, or £280,000. According to Jevons, gold coin loses 2 per cent. in 100 years—that is, £147,000 per annum on the actual amount, 736 millions. The loss by shipwreck cannot possibly be higher than one-sixth of the ratio of loss in sea-borne merchandise—say, £2 for every £1,000 shipped; and as the quantity of sea-borne gold in 1871-80 averaged £50,400,000 per annum, the loss by shipwreck would be £101,000. If we allow $32,000 for loss by fires, we make up a total wear-and-tear of £280,000, or two tons, the existing stock being a trifle under 11,000 tons.

McCulloch used to reckon for jewellers, loss, wear-and-tear, &c., about ½ per cent., which would be nearly 4 millions sterling a year of our present stock. The "consumption" by jewellers is probably even more now; but this nowise affects the question of a possible gold famine, since the jewellers' consumption goes to swell the uncoined reserve. It would appear that eighty years ago the uncoined reserve was better understood than to-day, for I find in the Edinburgh Review of 1803 the following passage:—"The precious metals have a two-fold use, for manufactures and coin. If there is a deficiency of coin the plate will be melted and coined. If there is a superabundance of coin it will be melted and manufactured."

Indeed, at present the world seems to have more gold money than it knows what to do with. In the Daily News of June 17 of the current year the following statement occurs:—"It is remarkable that excessive stores of gold are lying in the reserve banks of the Continent and America as well as here. Nowhere does there appear to be a currency demand for gold. Again and again we are told that the low prices in wholesale markets are due to scarcity in the world's supply of gold. Where is the scarcity?"

If the same amount of commerce required always the same amount of gold, Mr. Goschen's fears might be real, for he reminds us of the enormous increase of trade in recent years. Let us compare the increase of the world's commerce since 1864 with that of cheques:

	In millions £. 1864.	1884.	Increase.
Sea-borne merchandise, monthly	61	115	54
Cheques in London and New York	628	1270	642

Trade has risen 54 millions monthly, cheques 642 millions, or twelve times as much as trade. Perhaps it will be said we use credit to a dangerous degree; but I confess I prefer the English system to that of Spain and Portugal. The cheque system is to commerce what steam-power is to machinery, and almost in the same degree supersedes coin that railways have superseded mail-coaches.

The world could do with little more than half the present stock of gold coin if all the countries make £1 sterling go as far as we do in England. The following table shows the principal commercial countries and how much gold coin they have in use, compared with the volume of their trade:—

	Millions £. Commerce.	Gold Coin.	Coin Ratio.
Great Britain	700	124	18 p. cent.
France	360	197	55 "
Germany	350	75	21 "
Italy	102	30	30 "
Spain & Portugal	55	38	70 "
United States	310	130	42 "
1877		594	31 "

As soon as the banking system is better developed other countries will be able to do their trade with 20 per cent. of gold, which will release much of the coin at present carried about by the peasantry in Spain and elsewhere.

Notwithstanding the great increase of trade since 1860 we find the annual average of sea-borne gold is diminishing; it was 51¼ millions in ten years, ending 1870, and less than 50½ millions in the decade ending 1880. In the first decade it averaged 6 per cent., in the second only 4 per cent., of the value of sea-borne merchandise.

In the face of all these facts (and of an uncoined reserve of 768 millions) we may assure nervous persons that there is no danger of a gold famine, and that there is no more connection between gold supply and prices than there was when Adam Smith, Nassau Senior, McCulloch, Tooke, and Newmarch lived and enjoyed well-deserved esteem. But it is to be regretted that men of such eminent talents as Messrs. Goschen and Giffen should condescend to pick up Michel Chevalier's exploded theory.

* Professor Bonamy Price thinks a gold famine possible, because "the yield of the mines must depend on the cost of production." But in the United States the principal economists agree that "every dollar of the precious metal extracted from the earth has cost $1 20 cents." And in Australia the average yield is only 21 ozs. gold (say £80) per miner yearly, which is hardly equal to the cost of food and wages of any ordinary shepherd. The pursuit of gold-mining being in a manner a lottery, may be carried on for centuries at a loss—that is, one man getting a good return and three others not earning more than the cost of food.

A few of the foreign bonds, including Egyptian, gave way to a moderate extent. About £38,000 in gold was sent into the Bank.

Paris, 18.

A great sensation has been created here by the news that M. Rothan has been expelled from German territory. He was living at his estate of Luttenbach in the Munster Valley. Some days ago he received the order to leave German territory before Monday, the 17th inst., and has had to submit. M. Rothan had been nominated some time ago one of the vice-presidents of the Patriotic League. He was not a member of the league, and it is now said that he was appointed without his knowledge and declined to accept the post. Be this as it may, it is affirmed that shortly after his arrival at Luttenback M. Rothan, apprehending the fate that was in store for him, wrote to Prince von Bismarck, with whom he had been personally acquainted, and received a reply from Count von Hatzfeldt to the effect that Chancellor's action did not extend to Elsass, and that if the Imperial authorities at Strassburg displayed more rigour than usual, it was doubtless owing to the agitation of a party in France which had chosen him for its vice-president. It is added that the German authorities displayed the utmost courtesy in notifying their decree to M. Rothan, that his works have not compromised him in any way, and that Prince von Bismarck had nothing to do with the step taken against him. Curiously enough, the order of expulsion is based on the 7th clause of the French law of 1849, concerning the naturalisation and sojourn of strangers in France, a portion of which is still in force in Elsass-Lothringen. M. Rothan's name is well known to your readers. He was a distinguished diplomatist under the Empire, and was most exclusively employed in Germany. In 1871 he retired into private life, writing books and articles which have attracted widespread attention. I may refer more particularly to his "Affaire du Luxembourg" and his "Souvenirs Diplomatiques." M. Rothan, who was born at Strassburg, is sixty-three years of age.

A SCARE AT LONDON BRIDGE.

Last night, about nine o'clock, considerable alarm was occasioned in the neighbourhood of the City and Southwark by a loud explosion which was at first taken for another dynamite outrage. From inquiries made it would seem that the Alexandra was returning home from a pleasure-trip round the Nore, and, upon passing under London Bridge, those on board, in order to celebrate their return, fired off a small cannon. The bridge was at the time somewhat crowded with pedestrian and vehicular traffic, and the utmost alarm prevailed, people running in all directions. The horses to the vehicles were also startled, and it was with considerable difficulty that their drivers could prevent them from bolting. The Thames police, who were soon on the spot, ascertained that nothing was wrong, and the company on board the boat followed up the firing of the cannon with a display of coloured lights. The explosion was heard for a considerable distance.

A correspondent who witnessed a marriage ceremony performed by the Cheyenne Indians, says that the bride was dressed in a six-inch grin and three streaks of red paint.

GOLD PAYMENTS.

We give our readers Judge Castaño's verdict in re Mantels & Pfeiffer versus José Palma. As the action is based on the vexed question of gold payments and curso forzozo it will be undoubtedly interesting to our commercial body at large. The following is the decree:—

Whereas—First: Messrs Mantels and Pfeiffer say that, under the document which they have produced, they sold to Dn. José Palma a cargo of wood at the price named in said document, the buyer to sign a "pagaré" at six months, when the wood was measured and all delivered, for the whole amount in National gold money.

That the wood was measured and delivered, and its total value found to be $13,659-36 cents.

That Mr. Palma refused to sign the "pagaré" for coined gold, for which reason they pray that he be condemned to fulfil his contract, or in default thereof to pay damages and costs.

Second—Don José Palma, when answering the plaint (folio 9) enters into everything therein alleged, saying:

That the "boleto" (folio 1) was signed before the National Government issued the decree of forced currency for National Bank notes, and the "pagaré" had to be signed after said decree, for which reason he did not consider himself bound to sign it for coined gold, because the term "coined gold" bore a different meaning before and after the decree referred to, and he was only bound to sign for legal tender.

Third—That, the question being admitted by both plaintiffs and defendant to be one of simple right (folios 14 and 23). And Considering.

1st—That, having regard to the terms of both the plaint and the defence, the question "sub judice" is this:

Can the obligation to sign "pagarés" for coined gold—contracted prior to the forced currency decree for National Bank notes—be fulfilled by signing for legal tender?

Second—That the obligation that results from the "conforme" on the "boleto" (folio 1) is an obligation to perform a certain objective act, that act being to sign "pagares" for coined gold.

Third—That the act that was the object of the obligation must be done in the way the contracting parties intended that it should be done (Art 625 of the Commercial Code,) it being a rule that agreements must always be carried out in good faith, be binding as to what is expressed in them, and likewise as to all the consequences that equity, custom, or the law may attach to the obligation, according to the nature of same. (Art 209 C. C.)

Fourth—That in the case "sub judice" the intention of the parties that the payment should be made in coined gold, and that the "pagares" should be signed for said money, is clearly expressed, as proved by the very wording of the "conforme" mentioned, and also by the circumstances under which the obligation was contracted; because said "conforme" having been signed before the decree of the National Government, that is when there was no national money except coin (as the bank notes, being then convertible were nothing more than the representative of value in coin) the contracting parties could not have contemplated payment in any but the money then existing, or that it should be made in inconvertible notes that were not National money at that time.

Fifth—That having agreed to deliver in exchange for the wood sold a specified value in gold, if the payment were now to be made in inconvertible and depreciated notes at their face value, a less value than that contracted for would be delivered which would be contrary to the equity and good faith that should always prevail in the fulfilling of commercial agreements.

Sixth—That the decree of the National Executive on which Palma relies, has not the scope that he attributes to it; as its object, which can be clearly seen from its text, is simply to protect the notes of National Bank by making it obligatory to receive them in payment of obligations, although they are declared inconvertible; but not to give those notes a fixed value in relation to gold, a thing that neither Congress itself nor the people, from whom it originally receives its sovereignty, could do, economic value being a relation between things that is in itself quite beyond the reach of human will.

Seventh—That if the decree had the effect of placing a fixed value on the notes of the Bank, it would be equivalent to depriving, without indemnification, of part of their property all those who had to receive them in payment of credits, which would be evidently unconstitutional.

Eight—That the failure to fulfil an obligation to do a certain act involves damages (Art. 215 C.C.).

For all the foregoing reasons, I decide definitely.

That Don Jose Palma must sign 'pagares' for coined gold to the order of Messrs Mantels & Pfeiffer for $13,659 36 cts., and pay interest on same at the Bank rate for the time he has delayed in signing said 'pagares,' or in default, damages, but without costs, in view of the nature of the question.

I thus pronounce, order, and sign in Buenos Aires, Capital of the Argentine Republic, this 15th day of September of the year 1885.

Gabriel Larsen de Castaño.

The Capital of Rosario says that Cañada de Gomez, a rather musty place not so long ago, is now going ahead so fast that it will soon be a city. (The transition from 'nada' to a city is rather rapid in the Plate). Poor Ode G, however, is afflicted with a Gefe Politico that is by no means up to the city mark.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The R.M.S. Tagus sails to-day crowded with passengers and laden with gold; she takes £70,000 in sovereigns, which is a pretty heavy remittance, yet wonderful to narrate, although every one on the Bolsa knew of this gold shipment, the premium on gold fell rapidly, and gold closed weaker than ever. Many outsiders expect to see gold down to 25 before the month is out.

We have much pleasure in stating that letters received yesterday from Mr Thomas Henblas, London, say that the physicians give a more hopeful account of Mr Feeley; he is very comfortable and in his usual cheerful mood. His many friends in Buenos Ayres will be glad to hear this news.

The mail has brought us a long and powerful letter from Mr Krell, about the late meeting of the Central Argent. Railway, and the Sunchales Railway. We are requested to publish same, which we shall do, but we have already given our opinion on the subject.

Owing to indisposition of the tenor Rigoletto will be given in place of Huguenots at the National Theatre to-night

Another French colleague. We salute L'Independant, a new daily French organ, which makes its debut to-day.

A fair idea may be obtained of the large profits to be made in the Confiteria business from the fact that an enterprising Frenchman, who started 6 years ago the "Confiteria Central" in opposition to Messrs Roverano of the "Gas", has now retired from business and has taken to growing fruit on Mr. Coffin's beautiful property at Moron, so well-known to our American readers, and which the Frenchman bought at auction some time ago.

The Uruguay lottery was sold at public auction at Parana last week, Messrs Zaavedra and Julian Martinez buying the right for one year's drawing at $27,500 m/n. The purchase does not seem to be a very brilliant one in view of the bill in Congress.

On the 20th inst. a new daily paper called El Ferro Carril will make its appearance; we bow a pleasant welcome to our new colleague, although, in truth, we must say the Editorial Bus is at present inconveniently crammed, and there are altogether too many newspapers in town.

The guns fired a grand salute yesterday at 13 o'clock. Many people inquired what the firing was for. We believe it was the Independence of Mexico, but we are not quite certain.

The Irigoyen club has decided against the holding of an indignation meeting, but all Dr. Irigoyen's friends will muster strong at the station on Sunday to welcome him back.

There was nothing short of wild excitement in Lottery circles yesterday when it became known that the Chamber of Deputies had knocked them all on the head with one sudden blow. From the 1st January next the city will be free from the prodigious nuisance of hordes of vagabonds selling tickets from morn till dewy eve; but, if the Deputies imagine that the sale of the tickets of the Montevidean and provincial lotteries will not go on "sub rosa" as hard as ever, they are most woefully mistaken. The best way would be to leave the Capital Lottery standing, as a safety valve, and for the hospitals, and prohibit any other lottery in any part of the Republic. This new law will prove a grand thing for the Caridad Lottery of Montevideo.

Mr. Calvo's Bill to muzzle the gold speculators put them all on the broad grin yesterday. The project reminds us of our respected friend 'German Subscriber" (We have not had a line from him for ever so long) and his pitchfork at the end of the mole.

The weather was very warm but not to say nice yesterday. Too close by far, and a thundering deluge is not very far off.

Chain August is the remarkably queer name of the new King of Annam, a mere creature of the French General. Why did not Bismarck go in for something in that quarter instead of fooling round Zanzibar, the Caroline Islands and other wretched places?

A big Yankee from Maine, on paying his bills in a London restaurant, was told that the sum put down didn't include the waiter. 'Wal,' he roared 'I didn't eat any waiter, did I?' He looked as if he could though, and there was no further discussion.

Hooray! The Campana Railway will be finished to Rosario in two months. The rails are already laid to the Arroyo de Pavon, a place that was 'at the back of God-speed' ('Donde el Diablo tira el poncho') a few years ago.

A rascally doctor at Tortugas joined in a joke against a poor woman lately. He gave a certificate of her death from cholera-morbus, and a hearse was sent to her door for her corpse, while she was getting outside a dish of 'esquisito puchero.' The 'gamins' in the neighbourhood sent a shower of stones at the hearse-driver when they found what was 'up.'

Half a dozen sudden deaths in the streets and elsewhere were reported yesterday. Home-made brandy and other decoctions we should say.

There is some slight unpleasantness in Santa Teresa (Rosario) owing to the Juez de Paz having buried a corpse in the site of the new public school. The papers demand that his Worship be blown up for this misdemeanour. We second the motion.

We're always delighted to see the Porvenir of Bahia Blanca on our E T, even when there is no news in it; as there is an agreeable sea breeze about it. We see that the 'empresarios' of the diligences between that town and Patagones have put on new coaches, warranted not to shake travellers to pieces more than can be helped. An aboriginal named Arraras (He ought to have a few more rs in his name) won a fifth of the big prize in a recent lottery, and is consequently somewhat uncertain as to whether he is on his head or his heels. A new ball-alley is on the tapis. No more news from B. Blanca.

As the straw hat season is approaching our readers may care to know that Panama hats are all made in Guayaquil, Equator, and get their name because Panama merchants formerly controlled the trade. They are made of pita fibre, a sort of palm, and are braided under water by native women, of strands often twelve and fifteen feet long, and fine ones are very expensive. It often takes two or three weeks to braid a single hat, which sells for $5 or $6.

Sir W. B. Brett says that oratory has different characteristics. A politician's is characterised by fiction, an archbishop's by sarcasm, a philosopher's by pure imagination, and a lawyer's by truthfulness.

We regret to see that abominable drug morphine making headway here. Yesterday a suicide and an attempt at it by means of this drug were reported. The first was in Rosario by an apothecary named Camino. The second was young Lascano, son of the wealthy proprietor of the National Theatre, who, for some time past has made no secret of his intention to make away with himself.

The Revista Medica still sings the same old song about the health of the city: Small pox bad. Chest complaints bad. Rheumatism bad. Neuralgia bad. Everything bad. We're not bad. Never felt better.

That unfortunate Belgrano Tramway is again gripped by the Provincial Bank as chief creditor. We're sorry for it. It's not a bad sort of a tramway, as tramways go here.

The great Sarah has written to Cicchi that she will come here next year. When the time comes she will probably change her mind and accept an engagement in Herat or the Caroline Islands.

A vulgar hoax has been played on Don Andrew Egana's family. They give a hop to-night, and some way sent a lot of invitations to a lot of demi-semi fashionables who felt very much flattered, and were all preparing to go when the notice from Mr Egaña in yesterday's papers nipped their enjoyment in the bud. The hoax was a stupid one.

The inhabitants of San Cristobal parish want the Lord Mayor to explain to them in his usual mild and convincing manner why they are called on to pay 'barrido' tax, when such a thing as a Municipal broom has never yet been seen in that part of town. The question is tolerably pertinent.

It's no use asking us the name of the dentist to whom the following story refers. We would rather have all our teeth torn out than 'split' on a subscriber:—"The dentist advised him to have the tooth out, and assured him that he would feel no pain if he inhaled 'laughing gas.' 'But what is the effect of the gas?' asked the patent. 'It simply makes you totally insensible,' answered the dentist. 'You don't know anything that takes place.' The man assented, but just previous to the gas being administered he put his hand into his pocket and pulled out his money. 'Oh, don't trouble about that now,' said the dentist, thinking he was going to pay his fee. 'Not at all,' remarked the patient, 'I was simply going to see how much money I had before the gas took effect.'"

It is believed in parts of the north of Germany at the present day that a man provided with a piece of mistletoe can never be wounded, while his own weapons cannot fail to take effect.

Some rascal made off with a piece of bronze worth 100 nats. on Tuesday from Plaza Mayo, where it was lying, opposite what is jocosely called the Government Palace (What flunkey first introduced the word "Palace" instead of the old familiar "House"?) The metal belonged to Mr. B. Leslie, and if he live till he sees it again, he won't be gathered to his forefathers for a pretty considerable time to come.

The mouths of the burglar fraternity must water like cataracts at the news from Port Alegre, where their confreres have just "cracked" the Provincial cash box to the tune of 80,400 pats. But, Oh! shade of Vidocq! they missed 400,000 pats. lying in a shabby old box they did not consider it worth their while to open.

The Rochistas, Irigoyenistas and Gorostiagistas are all going to join and hold a monster meeting of protest against the foul attempt to murder Dr Irigoyen in Tucuman. The doctor is the Coming Man, and when he gets into the State pigskin we hope he will cut down the Budget, which our present rulers seemed resolved not to do.

The first sod of the branch line from Tolosa to Magdalena was turned yesterday. The Western Railway is like a beneficent devil-fish, stretching its feelers in every direction.

Lots of people with their head in the right place don't believe that the Dons and the Teutons have arranged their difficulties. They say that Bismarck raised the row deliberately, and knew what he was doing, so is not likely to knuckle down, except on the 'reculer pour mieux sauter' principle.

A postmaster in Calle Rivadavia is in trouble about some letters and lottery tickets that were dropped into the 'buzon' over which he has the honour to preside, and, like many good ships at sea, have never since been heard of.

The electioneering fever is playing old Harry with the readability of the papers. Nothing but the same old twaddle in the whole lot. A colleague counts six patriots who have already lost their precious lives since the mess began.

Bills of exchange without a stamp on them are rather dangerous articles. Judge Garcia has just come down with a slashing fine on a lot of drawers, acceptors, endorsers, and Lord knows who connected with an unstamped "letra de cambio."

We neither can nor will exchange with the swarms of new electioneering colleagues of all sizes that have sprung up in the Interior. We feel highly complimented at their all coming to us, irrespective of political colour; but we would soon be in the bankrupt court if we had to print all the necessary extra papers to exchange with them.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer Toothache, Meningites, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemist, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 32, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœas, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Invaluable at the Diggings and in the Bush also on board Ship, as small loaves of the best Bread or Scones can be made in a few minutes without the aid of Yeast.

Private Ward, during the Zulu war, writes:—"I should just like you to see the real farmhouse bread that I bake! The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. My bread often surprises me, it is so light, and white as snow. Some of our men will insist that I have been 'in the trade,' and nothing I can say will convince them to the contrary."

ON 'CHANGE

September 16th, 1885

Gold	38.50 o/o prem.
Cedulas F	80
Cedulas G	87⅝
National Bonds 5 o/o	70

There was a gale at the ring this morning, and the speculative tub nearly went to prices. The bears took a rise out of the speculation as they came down on the bulls with horse, foot and artillery. The attack was unexpected and its moral effect was great, but the premium did not fall much over 1¼ o/o. A conspicuous broker began selling at an early hour and let go over half a million dollars for the end of the month; his lieutenants helped in the crusade; the small dealers joined in and began kicking the bearish ball with fury until the premium had fallen to 38 o/o, when the fall was stemmed.
The excitement in speculative quarters was feverish all morning, and the greatest anxiety was evidenced to know whence the bearish attack proceeded. A conviction gained ground that the bulls were letting go, and the belief is becoming so strong that if the bears renew their attack to-morrow, the whole market will be probably whirled into a bearish votex. It must be borne in mind that very large operations fall due on the 30th and that at least a million patacons must be met that day at 30 o/o premium; great efforts, therefore, will be made in strong outside quarters to upset the market. If the bearish operation that is on foot is carried on without the support of or in opposition to the heavy bulls of the Syndicate the wisdom of such a speculative movement may be questioned, as it must fight against very strong elements, perhaps the strongest in the whole market.
Brokers pulled wry faces when they read the new Speculative Bill drawn up by Deputy Calvo and submitted to the House of Deputies. Had the Camara Syndical foreseen this most unexpected intrusion of Congress on 'Change, it is probable that the new exchange building would have never been built; and if the Honorable Deputies sanction Deputy Calvo's bill, the magic ring may be dissolved for other and better times, as all the leading brokers will migrate to Montevideo and operate there for account of their principals here. This species of National intervention on 'Change is a most unpalatable possibility that is beginning to disturb the even tenor of brokers' ways. It is, however, not probable that Congress will pass such a bill and brokers trust to the good sense of Legislators to throw out any scheme interfering with the freedom of the members of the Bolsa. In another column we give the tenor of the Bill.
Over two million dollars were sold this morning at the gold ring. Operations for cash amounted to about 100,000$; the market opened at 39.60 and closed at 38½. Operations for the end of the month embraced 1,500,000$ —one of the heaviest days on record. Rates for the 30th opened at 39½, fluctuated nearly all morning at 38⅝ to 39, and closed at 38. Half a million dollars were sold for the end of October at 38 to 36.80, the market closing at 37. The bears, it is whispered, are preparing another ferocious attack on the market and speculators think that they will endeavor to upset the gold premium by a very heavy supply of cash gold. The market this morning closed with a slight, but firm reaction.
The Cedula market continues weak. Fair amounts of Series F are offered at the ring; about seventy thousand were sold this morning at 80. Although the supply of Series G is no longer so large, quotations have given way. A few thousand were sold at 87½-⅝. A small operation in National 5 o/o bonds was effected at 70 o/o. Nothing was reported in National Bank stock.
The exchange market looked weaker to-day, and the rate is wavering at 46⅝d on London. Something was rumored done this morning at 46⅜, but this does not sound probable. The Provincial Bank draws in paper for small amounts only, but the effect on the market is healthy. The Bank, it is said, is working to increase its paper reserve.
The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

For Oct. 31st 445,000 at 137.50-138-137.90 to 137.80-138-137.80-137.50-137-to 137.50-20-137-136.80-137

The Gironde brings the final bases of the great Banco Uruguayo scheme which will revolutionize the Mount and perhaps pave the way to a state of affairs similar to what we are at present experiencing in this market.
The s.s. Coquimbo will not sail from Montevideo for Brazil and Europe before Sunday, 20th inst., owing to delays suffered on the West Coast. Her mails will be despatched from this port on the 19th.
An evening colleague, generally well posted up in Bolsa matters, states that the heavy bulls of last month are selling out their gold and speculating to put the premium down to 30 o/o.
There was a rumor in the hall this afternoon that the State Banks are selling their gold. It is said that the Pellegrini loan may be considered done, and that the market will thereby receive an important influx of specie; furthermore, that the State Banks, in view of these prospects, are letting go gold in order to relieve the present pressure in the situation and to hasten the fall in the premium. These are rumors current in an excited market, and we give them for what they are worth.
Brokers laugh at the idea of Congress imposing a stamp duty on brokerage operations. What might be done in this line is the fixing of a stamp on the 'conformes' of brokers' principals, and if we are not much mistaken there is already a law in this regard, but it appears to be more honored in the breach than in the observance.
The steady drain of gold from this market continues the subject of much discussion. The French packet must have taken a large remittance of gold, but the figure has not leaked out. The R.M.S. Tagus, which leaves to-morrow, takes no less than 70,000$ gold. Meantime, the influx of gold from Europe, for account of the Provincial Bank, continues, although the shipments from this market are an eloquent proof that bringing out gold must be a losing operation.
The gold market ruled active during afterhours, and the heavy operator of the morning continued selling heavy amounts. But the premium, strange to say, stood firm as a rock at 38, in spite of the large sales for the end of the month. The market at afterhours opened at 38⅛ and closed at 38. About half a million dollars sold.
The following sales are reported at the Azul Fair:—

One Rambouillet ram, L Garcia, at 30 m/n to F del Olmo.

We take the following from the Standard of London under date 11th ult.:—
"Argentine and Buenos Ayres Securities continued to droop. The news is that a hitch has occurred in the negotiations with the syndicate of bankers for the new loan. It seems that the Argentine Government has not agreed to the terms arranged by its agent on this side. We can well believe that these terms were pretty hard, for the immediate future of the River Plate is by no means a matter of plain sailing. The foreign debt, in these times of low prices and reduced trade, entails a steady drain of specie from the country, depresses the foreign exchange, and makes gambling in the gold premium the only business worth doing in the Bourse of Buenos Ayres. A keen, bitter Presidential contest is also approaching, in which, as usual, an up-country provincial candidate will be pitted against the chosen representative of the province of Buenos Ayres."

The fine Platense steamer Pomona has arrived from Patagones. She entered the Boca this morning, with a fair number of passengers and some produce.
Messrs Williams and Overbury, in their wool circular, under date London August 8th, report:—Since the close of the recent auctions, business in this market has been very quiet. Inquiries for wool have been more restricted than usual, and such transactions as have taken place consisted in the selling of a few withdrawn parcels of Australasian merino greasy and Cape scoured, in some cases at the prices offered in public sale, and in others at a small advance thereon. In addition to the foregoing, one or two fair sized parcels have recently been purchased for America. The reports to hand from the various centres of the wool industry on the Continent of Europe do not indicate any improvement in the state of trade, but rather the contrary; and at home complaints are still rife as to the unsatisfactory and unremunerative character of business. Spinners and manufacturers experience difficulty in obtaining fresh orders, even where they offer the inducement of a slight concession in price. Home-grown wools and Colonial crossbreds of similar quality continue in relatively better demand than merino growths, though the prices of the first mentioned have receded some 5 per cent. from the level attained a couple of months ago. At the Antwerp sales of River Plate wools now in progress, a decline of 7½ to 10 per cent. from the rates of the preceding series, held in April last, has been established. It must, however, be borne in mind that this only confirms the parity reached in private transactions during the fortnight prior to the sales, and is as nearly as possible that obtained for Buenos Ayres wools in London towards the end of June and beginning of July.

It is the most fragant, as well as the most lasting of all Floral Waters, and possesses refreshing and invigorating properties not contained in any other preparation of the kind.
